

Pomotux Mission

We will implement an activity manager for the Pomodoro Technique (<http://www.pomodorotechnique.com/>) created by Francesco Cirillo, a member of the XPlabs crew. Our program will focus on the basic features of the technique, and will also focus on a single-user experience. We won't focus on advanced techniques, such as the prediction of the number of pomodoros needed for an activity.

If we have the time we will also implement some of the statistics features that the Technique offers.
